VON HINDENBURG RECEPTION QUIET

MURKY WEATHER AND PARTISAN CROWD GREET CHIEF

BERLIN CEREMONIES LACK IMPRESSIVE POMP

Effort to Imitate Old Time Giltter Falls For Lack of Enthusiasm—Military Activities at a Minimum—Two Killed in Riot.

Berlin.—Escorted by mounted police, with airplanes buzzing above him, and with polished heels clicking to attention on either side, Field Marshal Von Hindenburg returned to Berlin, a bit late, but somewhat after the manner he may have contemplated in 1916-1917, when the fortune of war was with his hosts.

About 200,000 lined the four-mile line from Hoerstrasse station to the chancellor's palace, where the field marshal and president spent the night before officially being inaugurated into the presidency. This was about half the number which packed the short stretch of half a mile over which the late President Ebert's body was carried on the Socialist president's last journey.

The ceremonies at the railway station, where the president-elect arrived, were appropriately simple. Von Hindenburg was wearing a Prince Albert coat and high silk hat, with no medals or decorations of any kind. Chancellor Luther, Secretary of State Meisner, Minister of the Interior Shiele, Minister of War Gessler, General von Seeck, Admiral Zenke and other officials welcomed him on the platform.

Spiked helmets and the uniforms of the defunct regime were everywhere. The Imperial banner outnumbered the black, red and gold of the republic, but the government draped Hindenburg's motor with the colors of the republic.

There was a moment of panic as Hindenburg's motor passed through Bradenburger gate as an airplane seemed about to crash into the marshal's car.

Through Unter Den Linden and the last lap of the cordon composed of thousands of militant nationalists Hindenburg heard his name shouted and saw hundreds of waving banners inscribed with such republican sentiments as "With God for the Kaiser and Empire."

In the official reception of Germany's president the only color was brought by the new first lady of the land, Frau von Hindenburg, and Chancellor Luther's little daughter. The new hostess of the German white house arrived in a plain suit trimmed with white fox and a blue hat. Herr Luther's daughter, Gertrude, presented a bouquet to the president-elect.

Two republicans were shot to death on the outskirts of the welcoming celebration and six other persons were wounded at Odenburg when some armed fascists turned their guns on a gang who endeavored to expel them from an inn.

L. A. "RAIL MERGER" SWINDLE ECHOES IN SAN FRANCISCO

San Francisco.—Investigation of the San Francisco angles of the gigantic "railroad merger" swindle which came to light in Los Angeles with the arrest of Thomas Hennessy and Harry D. Hibbs, promoters of the scheme, was opened here by District Attorney Asa Keyes, who called a conference with Frank M. Angelotti, chief counsel for the Western Pacific, which corporation Hennessy and Hibbs asserted was to be one of the chief roads in the $6,000,000,000 merger of midwestern railroads.

The investors were promised for their investments which were taken as "private loans," a return of $10 for every $1 they invested. They also were required, Keyes said, to promise that they would reinvest a percentage of their profits from the railroad merger in a scheme for the purchase of a chain of banks.

BOAT TRAGEDY DEATH TOLL IS SET AT TWENTY-TWO

Memphis, Tenn.—The Mississippi river for miles below the Coahoma Landing, Miss., is being picketed by rivermen watching out for the twenty unfound victims of the capsizing of the steamer M. E. Norman. The swift current that races around Coahoma Bend and on toward Helena, Ark., was expected to carry any bodies not caught in the superstructure of the ill-fated craft downstream perhaps for many miles.

Government steamers from the United States army engineering corps fleet here are searching and watching the vicinity of the disaster.

GOVERNOR FEELS OF STATE'S PULSE

TAKES TEMPERATURE OF PEOPLE ON VARIOUS NEW LAWS

GAS TAX RAISE OPPOSED IN SOUTHERN COUNTIES

Richardson in Los Angeles For Three Days Hears Arguments and Listens in On Debate—Other Sections Will Be Visited.

Los Angeles.—Governor Richardson has returned to Sacramento, after spending three days here discussing with many persons various bills passed by the recent legislature and waiting action before May 30.

One of the most important bills taken up by the governor with laboring men and merchants was the Breed bill to increase the tax on gasoline to 3 cents a gallon.

Richardson said it was his plan to consult men in various parts of the state before he takes action on the bill.

The Breed bill is meeting with opposition here, according to a statement issued at the governor's office just before his departure for Sacramento, which in part said:

"Among those who voiced opposition was a delegation of union labor men headed by E. E. Lampton, secretary-treasurer of Los Angeles County District Council of Carpenters, who assured the governor that laboring men of Southern California of all trades are opposed to any higher gasoline taxes. They said that a large number of laboring men, particularly carpenters and metal tradesmen, own and use automobiles to go to and from work and to transport their tools, and that an increase in the gasoline tax would virtually mean a reduction of wages to them.

"Other protestants included representatives of merchants and business men, who argued that automobiles owned and used by them in business are operated almost exclusively on city streets, and not on state highways, for the building and upkeep of which the increased tax is intended."

Sacramento.—California is about equally divided on the 3-cent gasoline tax bill. Governor Richardson declared upon his return from Los Angeles, the southern section of the state being unalterably opposed to the increased levy and the northern counties standing equally as firm for it.

Governor Richardson refused to indicate what action he planned to take on the bill.

Los Angeles.—Opposition to the Breed bill to increase the state gasoline tax to 3 cents a gallon was not hard to find in southern California. Governor Richardson revealed in a statement issued after a three-day sojourn here.

"Almost without exception," the statement said, "all who called to discuss it opposed the increased tax."

ANAHEIM ALL "FUSSUP" BY KLANSMEN AND ANTIS

Anaheim, Cal.—Animosities between klanmen and anti-klan elements, which culminated here a few weeks ago in a recall election directed against city officials, flared up again following a severe beating administered to Rev. Leon Myers, pastor of the Christian church and cyclops of the Anaheim Klavern of the klan, by William Knott, a retired merchant and a vigorous klan opponent. Knott asserted that Rev. Mr. Myers had attacked him in a sermon.

Police have an incendiary bomb found against an exterior wall of the house occupied by Rev. J. A. Greisinger, pastor of the Anaheim Methodist White Temple church and a pronounced opponent of the Ku Klux klan. The bomb consisted of a can containing a quantity of gauze saturated with an inflammable liquid and a lighted candle.

Aviators Burned in Wreck

Salt Lake City.—Caught under the wreckage of a blazing plane, which crashed to earth at Woodward air mail field, A. Claron Nelson, of San Francisco and two 15-year-old boys were burned to death before the eyes of hundreds of spectators. Nelson, formerly an air mail pilot, was engaged in commercial aviation for a Salt Lake company.

French Prepare Riff Offensive

Fes, Morocco.—Marshal Lyautey is massing his troops for an offensive against the Rifian army, which will be severe, as the nucleus of the Rifian force is composed of 15,000 veterans of the year's long warring with Spain and are commanded by Russians and Germans. Heavy artillery and airplanes are possessed by the Rifians.

PEACE HYMN OF THE REPUBLIC

Our eyes have seen the horrors
Of devastating strife,
We have paid the cruel tribute
In our richest coin of life,
We have seen all good things
Crumble,
Every ill and terror rife,
While War was marching on!

Chorus

Oh, the horror of the conflict,
Oh, the sadness of the conflict,
Oh, the anguish of the conflict,
While War was marching on!

Let us beat the sword of battle
Into plowshares for the field
Let us plant the seeds of kindness
For a great and glorious yield,

Love and truth put on for armor,
Fellowship of man for shield!
While Peace goes marching on!

Chorus

Glory, Glory Hallelujah!
Glory, Glory Hallelujah!
Glory, Glory Hallelujah!
While Peace goes marching on!

God has given us the weapons
Every joy of life to win;
They are love and thought for others,

Generosity within;
They are hope and faith and
honor,

Love and fellowship of man,
While Peace goes marching on!

Chorus

Glory, Glory Hallelujah!
Glory, Glory Hallelujah!
Glory, Glory Hallelujah!
While Peace goes marching on!

LIFE OF CRIME DUE TO HEREDITY

Lack of proper attention to the study of eugenics results in crime. If the Eugenics Bureau had been consulted and its advice heeded before marriage, the offspring of that marriage might now be a perfectly conventional business man or bootblack, but the young people were thoughtless and impulsive and didn't even consider consulting the aforementioned Eugenics Bureau.

Consequently a thoughtful young pacifist married an energetic suffragette; result—a pirate. The courage, daring, initiative, unconventionality, recklessness, coolness, and forthrightly inherited thus doubly inevitably drew the young man into that interesting calling. Notice that if he had lacked just one of these qualities he would have been equally successful in business, for exactly the same qualities are needed in business as in piracy with the exception of one. Which one? Well which do you think? Unconventionality, of course. The pirate's recklessness led him into a surprising situation—surprising for a pirate and amusing to the rest of us.

In order that you may enjoy it with us, come to see the "Love Pirates of Hawaii" Friday night at a quarter past eight in the auditorium of the Campbell Union Grammar School.

SUPT HANCOCK TELLS SCHOOL FACTS

Quite a representative audience of interested citizens attended the public school week program at the grammar auditorium Monday evening.

Dr. W. I. Merrill who had charge of the arrangements acted as chairman of the evening. After opening numbers by an augmented orchestra of school pupils lead by Mr. Edw. Towner, Dr. Merrill introduced County Superintendent of Schools, Jos. Hancock, who gave a very interesting and instructive talk on the costs of our schools per pupil in both grammar and high school. He also gave figures showing the cost of schooling in Campbell as compared with other average schools. In several cases the comparison was favorable to Campbell but in others Campbell was bested.

Ray Thomas, of the high school, who is such a popular favorite for program numbers, gave two very pretty saxophone solos.

C. R. Crooke, principal of Willow Glen school was then introduced and spoke on "Americanization." Mr. Crooke is a very well informed man on this subject and gave some very convincing arguments and facts concerning the educational problems to be worked out with our illiterates.

The program was closed by numbers by the orchestra.

CO. CONSOLIDATED CAMPBELL GUESTS

The public improvement committee was authorized to consult with the Campbell bus company with the plan of securing alternating service over the two highways between Campbell and Los Gatos.

An invitation to the Santa Clara County Consolidated to meet at Campbell June 2, having been unanimously accepted, President Whitman urged a goodly attendance at the luncheon which will be served at the Library by the Country Woman's Club at noon.

The matter of a fire escape on the I. O. O. F. hall was discussed and referred to the public health committee.

The Commercial committee was authorized to have the Campbell road direction signs repainted.

The movement is on foot by the school boards to have the roads west of town put in better condition and the Chamber voted to co-operate in getting this much needed work done.

M. E. Griffith of Fresno, was unanimously elected state deputy to the Knights of Columbus, succeeding Thomas D. White of Los Angeles, at the convention at Fresno. Other officers elected were: Dan P. Maher, San Francisco, secretary; Ray Hall, Oakland, advocate; Joseph Lombardi, Los Angeles, treasurer. Charles T. McNamara, San Francisco, delegate to the supreme convention in Duluth, next August. San Francisco won the 1926 convention.

Fire which May second, threatened to wipe out the industrial section of Clovis, is believed to be another in the long chain of conflagrations attributed to the activities of radicals in the valley. The blaze did $120,000 damage, chiefly to raisin warehouses and railroad equipment. It broke out in the main packing plant of the Fresno Home Packing company.

POMONA GRANGE MEETS AT CAMPBELL

Regular Session Tuesday

Orchard City Grange held a very interesting meeting Tuesday evening at Odd Fellows hall at which fourteen candidates were given the third and fourth degrees, the work being put on by the drill team lead by Mrs. Jessie McChesney and Mrs. Isabel Smith, the whole being done in a most charming and entertaining manner. State Master and Mrs. Harrison were present.

A banquet was held at 6:30 P. M. at which over one hundred members were present. Had it not been for the rain it was thought many more would have been present.

This being inspection night, the various officers gave their duties in a most creditable manner and were much praised by the state master, who also spoke of the progress of the grange throughout the state. He said there had been one new grange just organized in Modoc County, making five new granges organized in that county in the past year with many others in various parts of the state. He reported that state grange would be held in Sacramento November 6 to 10 and the National grange would follow on the eleventh. They are expecting a large attendance at the National grange, preparations being made for two train loads from Boston, Mass., as well as large numbers from other parts of the country and he has promised the National Master that California will have 1000 new candidates to take the seventh degree at Sacramento.

This degree is the most beautiful of all grange work and all grangers who can possibly do so should arrange to attend the National during this session, as it is likely to be many years before they will have another opportunity. Mr. Clendening reported there was to be another grange organized in this county at Coyote very soon.

Attention was also called to the Grange Fire Insurance which is open to members only, and is now providing insurance at much reduced rates. The committee on Field Day reported arrangements about complete. This is set for Saturday, May 23, at Winchester Park. A large attendance is expected from all parts of the county.

Pomona Grange met in Odd Fellows Hall, Campbell, Saturday at 1:30 P. M. Pomona Grange is composed of members from the granges of the county, and therefore is a very representative body. The afternoon was mostly taken up by routine business and reports from various granges. The reports on crop prospects varied, but in general prunes were thought to be about 60% of a full crop and apricots 50%. A class of fifty-one candidates joined Pomona by initiation, the work being put on by the officers of Pomona in a splendid manner. J. H. Boone of the San Jose grange being master. Of the candidates twenty-nine were from the new Dumbarton grange which meets at the Ravenswood school house, Palo Alto. This new grange has been organized only a few weeks but is making splendid progress. The dinner at 6:30 P. M. taxed the capacity of the dining hall to its full extent, there being 150 present.

The evening session under the direction of Miss Smith, lecturer of Mountain View grange, was a delight of lecture, song and recitation. A whistling solo by Miss Newell, of Gilroy grange, accompanied by a phonograph, was most pleasing, as also were recitations by Mrs. Anna Schulte and a piano solo by Miss Arnott.

A. H. Hendrickson from the experiment station, gave an instructive talk on irrigation and Mrs. Hendrickson sang "Thank God for a Garden" and "Love's in My Heart."

"MAKING A HOME TOWN BETTER"

The tourists of any country advertise it for better or for worse, depending upon the impressions made on them and the treatment accorded them by the local citizens while they are stopping in the community. Many people become so accustomed to "tourists," that they are inclined to remain indifferent as to the strangers' welfare. From a community standpoint this is a great mistake, to say nothing of the humanitarian side.

It is the man who comes into your town and then leaves that tells the outside world what kind of a town you have. He is the man who either will come later and bring his family to reside in your town, or induce others to come, provided the town and its people impress him favorably. He also is the fellow who will give your town a black eye if he receives the slightest mistreatment or if the place does not appeal to him. Memories, either for good or bad, linger with him, and he is not averse to telling the world all about it.

Don't overcharge tourists. This is the "sticker" with them. They will remember an overcharge long after you have spent the money it represents. A penny gained in overcharging is a dollar lost to your community's future.

The Bible says something about not turning the stranger from your door lest you may turn away an angel unawares. So it is with the tourist. Remember, he has the energy, the ambition and the money to come on a long trip, and the courtesy to make your town one of his objective points.

Good hotel facilities always help a community to grow. And with good hotels should come ample and well-managed auto camp grounds. Although some folks "turn up their noses" at so-called "tin can tourists," they are often future valuable citizens in disguise.

Local business men, chambers of commerce, auto clubs, and city and town officials should always be on the alert to extend every possible courtesy to the tourists and traveler.

PERSISTENCY

If consistency is a jewel, persistency is its twin brother. Outside of the fundamentals of honesty and ability, there is nothing that spells success like persistency. The man who hangs on, while others drop off, is the one who reaches his destination and goal.

How many times have we known this to happen, even in the smaller things of life! How often is the story of success written around the fellow who keeps hitting the pace, day after day, and year after year. There is no field of endeavor in which persistency does not enter as ring-ing-true virtue. Men have built great business enterprises by persistency in advertising. The foundation to many a fortune was laid by persistency in thrift, economy and small savings. Men have persisted in the fields of politics, and have finally reached high positions of state. Youths have sacrificed at the altar of persistency in seeking education and have seen their ambitions realized. Others have persisted and broken the fetters that bound them to wrongful habits and have been thus permitted to enter into newness of life and fresh fields of usefulness. Persistency, thou too art a jewel.

EVERY MAN TO HIS OWN INTEREST

A man who lives in California, after a recent visit to Nebraska, Iowa and Kansas, reports that crop conditions are exceptionally good, with the estimated wheat crop in Kansas at 100,000,000 bushels. He winds up by stating that there is every reason to believe that "winters tourist travel from these states to California will resume its former proportion."

Here is a natural result and reaction. If this man had lived in New England, his interest might have led him to assert the probability of large purchases of textile goods or shoes on the part of the midwest farmer and his family when the crop-money comes in.

If he were a steel magnate, he would have pictured a bran new set of farming implements being hauled home by the proud farmer. And so on, every man to his own interest. However, first assuming that the crop prediction will be borne out by facts, we can imagine the Kansas-Nebraska-Iowa farmer first paying off the accumulated interest and then as much of the principal as he can bite off in a year, and still keep the radio in good batteries and daughter in college another term.

But if it keeps up, next year look out for the pleasure trips, and new implements, and lifted mortgage and contentment.

It's about the time of year when college graduates will begin sweeping out grocery stores.

They used to sympathize with the poor birds on women's hats; now it's the poor birds that have to buy the hats.

In the spring the old man's fancy turns to thoughts of hooks and worms.

JUDGE A. J. FARLEY ANSWERS SUMMONS

Almond Judson Farley passed to his final reward Wednesday morning after a painful illness of several months duration, and the community has lost a most loyal citizen and neighbor.

Judge Farley, as he was always known by his friends and townspeople, was born at Fairfield, N. Y., February 18, 1846. In his boyhood he moved with the family to Wisconsin. Being a studious lad he had become a teacher in Wisconsin at the early age of sixteen.

In 1865 he came to California by way of the Isthmus of Panama and took up the teaching profession here, having the old Alviso school near Alvarado where he remained for 12 years. During that time he was a member of Alameda County Board of Education. He served as teacher for twenty years.

He married Catherine Logan in January 1886 at San Jose coming to Campbell nineteen years ago with his family. For fifteen years of that time he served as Justice of the Peace up to the time that office was discontinued by the County Board.

Judge was a most faithful and active member of the Campbell Improvement Club, always working with enthusiasm for the betterment and growth of his town and community.

The deceased is survived by his wife, Catherine and children, Guy E., Phebe J., May and Mrs. Amy Larsen, and a brother Nye Farley of Santa Clara, to whom the sympathy of their many friends is extended.

The funeral services will be held from the family home on North Second street this afternoon at 2:30, Rev. W. H. Lloyd officiating.

OPERETTA TONIGHT

This evening at 8:15 the operetta, "Love Pirates of Hawaii," by the California composer, Otis M. Carrington, is to be given by the Campbell Union High School students in the grammar school auditorium.

This is a light and entertaining musical comedy with a background of leisurely Hawaiian life. You will see light-hearted girls dancing and singing, bold swagging pirates, and amusing situations, all against a setting of blue Hawaiian sea, cloudy sky and tropical trees.

This setting is a result of the initiative and skill of Miss Kitty Johnson and her drawing class—Miss Bernice Bogert and Beverly Davis in particular—who decided to dispense with the conventional scenery and make their own.

We are sure that we shall enjoy the music for Mr. Josef Halmicek is directing it; while Miss Marian Jenkins and Miss Claribel Boesch are training the cast for the performance.

Buy a ticket from one of Mr. Noddin's juniors.

Miss Winnie Grizzle has been reelected to teach her sixth consecutive school term at Modoc Point, Ore. Miss Grizzle will soon return to Campbell to spend her summer vacation with her parents and brothers.

D. A. McQueen, Ernest Snow and Bert Campbell are in attendance at the Grand Lodge session of the I. O. O. F. in San Francisco beginning Tuesday. They are delegates from Morning Light Lodge No. 42, of Campbell.

The state supreme court denied a rehearing of F. E. McClennan and sixteen other members of the I. W. W. in San Quentin prison for violation of the California criminal syndicalism act. The convictions of the men were recently affirmed by the high court, which held that mere membership in the I. W. W. constituted an infringement of the statute. The United States supreme court is now the last tribunal to which the radicals can appeal.

ON REMOVING THE FLAG FROM ARLINGTON

Would you lower the standard that waves o'er the dead?
Who fought and died for it, and val
iently bled?
Would you tear it down now from its
time-honored place,
And all of it's meaning forever efface?

Will you roll the dear banner and lay it aside?
No more let it wave o'er those who have died,
That its glorious color may wave in
the sun,
Proclaiming the triumph their valor
has won?

Long years it has floated from Ar
lington's Hight,
Unfurled with the sunrise and lower
ed at night,
With a solemn salute o'er the slumber
ing dead,
As blackbirds, alarmed, winged high overhead.

Is the beautiful service to end at last,
Ere those who decreed it from among us have passed?

Accursed be the motives back of this deed;
Accursed be those who disloyalty
breed;
Restore to the veterans the right they
have won,
Let the flag o'er them wave when their life-work is done.

—Isabel Likens Gates.

Publicly Owned

IT would take 30 buildings like our New
General Office Building on lower Market Street, San Francisco, to house the 30,270 stockholders of the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

There are farmers, mechanics, clerks,
teachers, clergymen and 200 other occupa tions in this great family. They come from every city and hamlet in Northern Cali fornia.

Their money builds dams and ditches and power houses in the mountains and great transmission lines through the valleys.

It is their money that builds stations and puts wires and lines underground or raises them overhead in cities and towns.

These thousands own the Pacific Gas and Electric Company.

It's a people's Company.
